I was born in London and was a son of a builder. I am a smart and caring person that has fresh idea to input on how we a community should work together. I am a man that went through a system that needed to be fixed. I am a man of the people and will want as much input as humanly possible. I have never run away from a challenge and this is one that I know I can do well. We as one nation are more powerful than a divided one. My pledge is to listen to people as you matter more than anyone else. I am a free thinking person and will bring creative ideas to the table. Thank you for reading my platform.

I believe we need to change the system as the system has become redundant and need a kick up the backside to bring this nation back to what was great in Great Britain. We need to reform education, healthcare and even spending of useless bodies of waste money.

If we do not act now the past will be lost and the future for the kids we are going to have will go to. It is now or never to win the heart that 40 years of government has lost away. This area needs change that I can give it. Without that change the same old problems will still be there. First step revolution and then return the stable start lost over time.

Gandhi said if we want peace we need to start with the children. They are the future that we need to help as they fail the nation fails too. We need to create some immigration of new creative ideas. Wealth comes a nation that knows that everyone is a key clog is security of the nation. 1 bad clog and everything falls into pieces of rubble.

If you pick me you will get the energy to change that past and create new dawn to a future peace and understanding. Hard work to win starts with a great risk. The bigger the risk the greater the reward. Those reward are worth the hard work and pain. Do not let it come after May and nothing has changed for the better.
